Dear TC:

Now that I have finished my time as Attorney General, I wanted to thank you for serving on the Attorney General's Advisory Committee at a key time in the history of that Office.

You certainly made important contributions. Your judgment is superb. Through your vast experience in reporting on government, you helped me to recognize some things that would be necessary to do and communicate about in order to restore and preserve public confidence in the office. You also have worked in government, and that helped you to make important contributions. The others on the committee and in senior leadership were grateful as well for that counsel.

I also want to thank you for lending us your significant writing talents. Your expert writing abilities helped to make the reports understandable and clear to all who read them. We were all impressed as you took the draft and transformed it.

Finally, I want to thank you for your public service. The committee met frequently, often twice a week, permitting us to gain wise counsel as we moved quickly to modify policies and practices. What an amazing volunteer effort.

Thank you very much, TC, for these superb contributions.

Best wishes,
